Administrative History

California Institute of the Arts, commonly known as CalArts, is located in Valencia, California, and grants degrees in the visual and performing arts. Incorporated on September 1, 1961, it was the first degree-granting institution of higher learning in the United States created specifically for students of both the visual and the performing arts. It was the dream and vision of Walt Disney to create such an institute and he provided funding for it in his will. Initially formed through the merger of the Chouinard Art Institute (founded 1921) and the Los Angeles Conservatory of Music (founded 1883), it opened at its present campus in Valencia, California, in November 1971.

California Institute of the Arts was incorporated on September 1, 1961, and the first Board of Trustees meeting was held the following March. Chouinard and the Conservatory began operating under the name of the Institute while the Trustees began working on the establishment of a permanent campus and a development program. Preparation continued in 1964, when the “Cal Arts Story” was dramatized on film by the Disney studios and shown at the world premiere of Mary Poppins at Grauman’s Chinese Theatre in Hollywood, California. Prior to the Mary Poppins premiere (whose proceeds were donated to CalArts) Walt Disney and Mrs. Von Hagen introduced the Institute to an audience of 1,500 guests in a fifteen-minute special film. Among those who attended the Premiere were Julie Andrews, Dick Van Dyke, and numerous other Hollywood luminaries.

Land for a campus was acquired in 1967 and planning for the physical facilities was immediately undertaken. Disney interests had discovered a simple solution to their land acquisition problem – give CalArts part of the Golden Oaks Ranch in Newhall. The 728-acre ranch had belonged to Walt Disney Productions for years. In 1967 the gift property was sold back to the Disney interests so they could find a more spacious and suitable site. Price proposed a 60-acre site down the road from the Placerita Ranch, on the edge of the rural town of Valencia, located 32 miles northwest of downtown Los Angeles. At the time, the area was remote from Los Angeles, bordered by Placerita Canyon State Park and a national forest, yet readily accessible to downtown Los Angeles. Other locations had also been considered, such as the Hollywood Bowl area.

Ground was broken for the new campus on May 3, 1969. Construction was frustrated by torrential rains and labor troubles of every variety. So, instead the “new” school began its first year in the buildings of Villa Cabrini Academy, a former Catholic girls’ school on the edge of downtown Burbank. Woefully behind schedule and over budget, the Valencia campus finally opened in November 1971.

Admission to CalArts was based solely on artistic ability and potential. Students received intensive professional training in the area of their career focus without being cast into a rigid pattern. Instructional emphasis was placed on the development of the professional artist – the artist of tomorrow. “There is an urgent need,” said Disney, “for a professional school which will not only give its students thorough training in a specific field, but will also allow the widest possible range of artistic growth and expression.”

The photographic materials in this collection belong to the California Institute of the Arts Public Affairs Department. Most of the images were taken by Public Affairs photographers, however some photographs were taken by photographers not associated with CalArts and were donated to the Public Affairs Department.

Collection Scope and Content Summary

This collection is comprised of photographic images documenting the history of CalArts from 1964-2004. The earliest images are those of the Mary Poppins Premiere fundraiser for CalArts with Lulu May Von Hagen and Walt Disney in 1964. Other early photographs show CalArts from its architectural design phase through groundbreaking and construction. The bulk of the photographs are from 1970-1980 and focus on people such as faculty, students, and visiting artists, as well as activities and events at CalArts. The collection is organized by the three formats found in the collection: Negatives, contact sheets, and prints. The negatives are arranged primarily by year and secondarily by accession number and can be cross-referenced with the contact sheets which are arranged by accession number. Prints are arranged alphabetically by subject.

The collection is organized into 4 series:

- Series 1: Negatives, 1969-2004. 21.5 cubic feet.
- Series 2: Contact Sheets, 1969-1992. 7.5 cubic feet.
- Series 3: Prints, 1964-1993. 11 cubic feet.
- Series 4: Slides, 1969-
